

Building a Healthy Boston

PAATHS (Providing Access to Addictions Treatment, Hope and Support) is a one-stop shop for anyone looking for information about, or access to, substance use treatment services. Please call 311 from the City of Boston to connect directly to PAATHS. If you are outside of Boston or using a pay phone, call 617-635-4500.

Staff at PAATHS are able to provide phone support, community support and walk-in services to individuals who are seeking immediate placement in a range of substance use treatment programs.

The following resources provide recovery services in Spanish.

Boston Public Health Commission:

- Entre Familia: 6 to 12-month residential substance use treatment program that provides bilingual/bicultural, gender-specific, substance use disorder treatment to pregnant and postpartum women and their children.
- MOM's Project: outpatient treatment program that provides recovery services (individual therapy, group therapy, and case management) for self-identified women who have substance use disorders.
- Men's Health and Recovery: outpatient treatment program that provides recovery services (individual therapy, group therapy, and case management) for self-identified men who have substance use disorders.

Other providers in Boston:

- Casa Esperanza: 617-445-1123
- Conexions: 617-912-7500
- The Dimock Center: 617-442-8800
- Lahey Health Behavioral Services: 617-247-1001
- Whittier Street Health Center: 617-989-3009